TRULY OUTRAGEOUS
PART ONE

WRITTEN BY KELLY THOMPSON ★ ART BY GISELE LAGACE
COLORS BY M. VICTORIA ROBADO ★ LETTERS BY SHAWN LEE
EDITS BY SARAH GAYDOS ★ PUBLISHER TED ADAMS
We're coming back.

Breaking from the pack.

Brand new track.

Hot like black.

We're breaking away, breaking from it all.
JERRICA BENTON AKA JEM, LEAD SINGER
MILD-MANNERED SONGWRITER HIDING
UNDERNEATH A POWERFUL HOLOGRAM
PERSONA. STRUGGLING WITH HER DUAL IDENTITY IN MORE WAYS THAN ONE

AJA LEITH, LEAD GUITAR. BEEN TAKING THE LEAD ON A LOT OF THINGS SINCE
JERRICA STARTED STRUGGLING AND SHE DOESN'T LIKE BEING THE RESPONSIBLE
ONE. SHE DOESN'T LIKE IT ONE BIT.
Breaking Away

Shana Elmsford, formerly on drums, now on bass. Recently back from a fashion internship in Milan and trying to find her footing again with her band and her sisters.

Kimberly Benton, keytar. The baby of the family and more determined than any two people on earth, in love with rival band member Stormer of the Misfits, which definitely ups the life drama.

Carmen Alonso aka Raya, drums. Formerly of The Stingers, deliriously happy to be the newest member of Jem and the Holograms. A little naïve about what shenanigans tend to come the Holograms’ way!
That was really great!

GREAT! WE'RE THE LITERAL BEST!

IT REALLY WORKS, I HAVE TO SAY.

SHANA, I FEEL LIKE WE'VE BEEN NEEDING YOUR BASS ALL ALONG.

Yeah, it's giving us a great layer, a deeper sound.

I'm so happy!

So are you really feeling okay on bass, Shana? Cause it's sounding really strong.

Yeah, it's good.

I felt a little rusty last week, been a while since I played bass, but I think I'm in it now.

I'm so glad, there was a scary moment there... two drummers and all.

...Yeah.
Jerrica’s been struggling with the dual identity. She’s been a bit better lately, since she stopped trying to juggle so much, but it was really scary while you were gone and if I’m honest... I don’t think it’s sustainable long-term unless something changes.

What does that mean?

Unless something changes... our band’s days are numbered.

I need someone to make me one of those drinks with the cute umbrellas.

Yeah... that can be arranged.

Thank you guys so much for inviting me...